DETAILED ACTION

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Species I, claim(s) 27, 30, 35-38, 47-52 drawn to a latch having lever holding elements.

Species II, claim(s) 28-29, 31-34 drawn to a latch having slide holding elements.

Species III, claim(s) 39-40, drawn to a latch having a leaf spring.

Species IV, claim(s) 41, drawn to a latch having a stamped part.

Species V, claim(s) 42, drawn to a latch having a round bolt.

Species VI, claim(s) 44, drawn to a latch having a folding lever.

Species VII, claim(s) 46, drawn to a latch having a drive.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The following claim(s) are generic: 43

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: each species requires a new and different holding mechanism, some include a drive mechanism and some include the process by which the components are formed, creating a serious burden on the examiner.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.
